

Meet Debra O'Neal (LC'87), Dedicated Rutgers Alumni Leader

Debra O'Neal, LC'87, vice president of the Livingston Alumni Association, joined the Rutgers University Alumni Association's Board of Directors in July 2013.

She has served as the Class of 1987 vice president, as the first vice president of the LAA, as chair of the RUAA Regional Clubs Committee, and as past president of the National Association of Social Workers, reach alumni who want to stay engaged but who live far away from Rutgers and may find it difficult to connect.

"Being a board member provides me with a direct opportunity to actually shape our vision for Rutgers alumni and help propel it forward," Debra says.

*Photo courtesy of Rutgers University Alumni Association.
Originally posted November 21, 2013*