

Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni

In 1987, the Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni (HDA) was created to recognize alumni who, through their remarkable achievements in professional and civic life, have brought honor to themselves and the university. The Rutgers University Alumni Association (RUAA) honors their achievements at the annual Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni Awards. Browse through the online directory of past honorees.

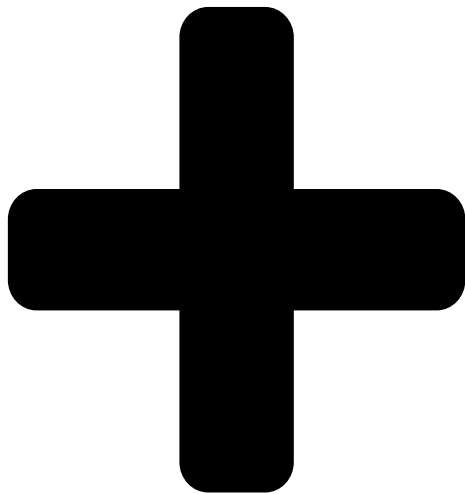

Pictured at right, at the Rutgers University HDA dinner, May 1, 2004: Livingston Alumni Association President Yash V. Dalal (LC'92), inductee Edward M. Jordan, Rutgers University President Richard L. McCormick, Livingston College Dean Arnold G. Hyndman, and inductee Clifton R. Lacy.

The following Livingston College alumni have been named to the Rutgers Hall of Distinguished Alumni:

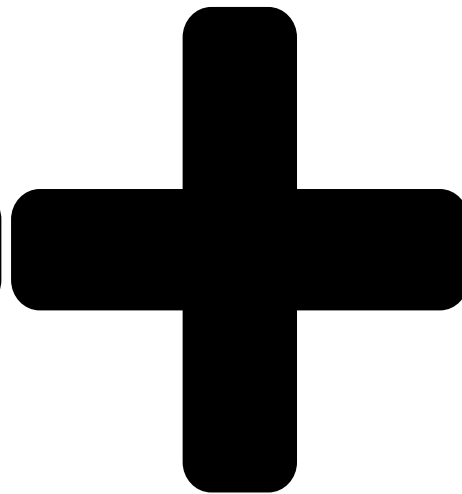

1993 Inductee
AVERY F. BROOKS (LC'73, MGSA'76)

2004 Inductee
EDWARD M. JORDAN (SMLR'15)

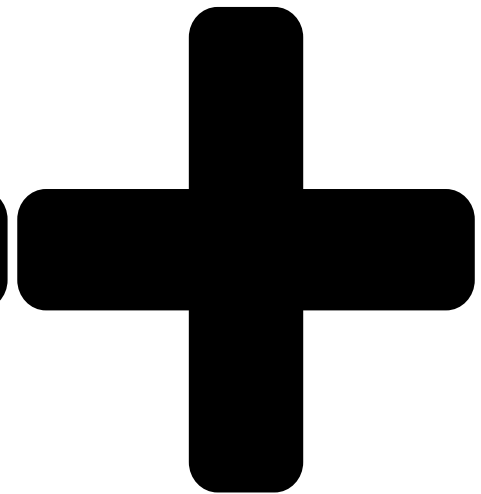

2004 Inductee
CLIFTON R. LACY (LC'75, RWJMS'79)

Actor; Director; Singer;
Professor, Mason Gross
School of the Arts

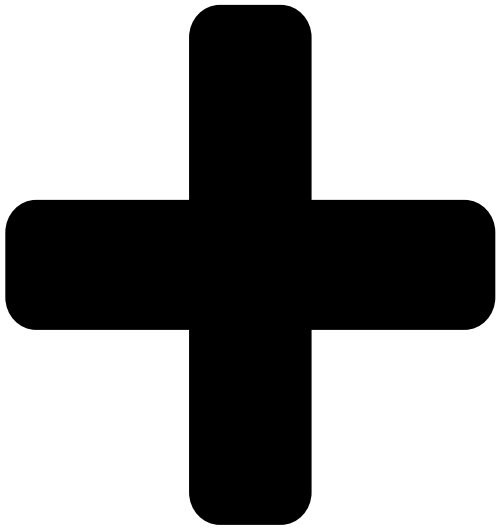

Rutgers Men's Basketball
Head Coach (2013-2016) and
Player (1973-1977)
(Originally scheduled to graduate from LC in 1977)

Medical Leader;
New Jersey State Health
Commissioner

2010 Inductee
GREGORY Q. BROWN (LC'82)

2014 Inductee
HARVEY M. SCHWARTZ (LC'87)

Rutgers Board of Governors Chair;
Business Leader
(Hosted the 2013 HDA celebration)

Rutgers Board of Governors Member; Business
Leader